

G. O. P. WINS HOUSE BY LEAD OF SEVEN

Republicans Have Total of 217
Seats Against 210 for Democrats.

that with the count completed he was victorious by 13 votes over Zeb Weaver, Democrat. There is a likelihood of an official recount in this district, and perhaps of a contest.

Iowa Solidly Republican.
Iowa was assured a solid Republican delegation when George C. Scott, Republican, Eleventh Iowa district, telegraphed that he had been elected by 73 votes.

Republican leaders have practically conceded the election of Albert F. Polk, Democrat, of Delaware. It also is believed here that W. B. Walton, Democratic candidate in New Mexico, has won over Congressman B. C. Aderman, Republican.

One political expert summarizes the result so far in this fashion:
"Conceding the Democrats the election of Scott in Delaware, the election of their candidates in the two doubtful Pennsylvania districts, and the assistance on important questions of the Socialist and Prohibitionist, with the assistance to the Republicans on important questions of the Progressive, the Protectionist, and Independent, the practical party alignment in the next house will be:

"Republicans, 220.
"Democrats, 214.
"Republican majority, 6."

"This seems to be the best the Republicans may expect unless they win one of the Pennsylvania districts, when the alignment would be:
"Republicans, 223.
"Democrats, 213.
"Republican majority, 10."

Those Who Hold Power.
The men whose combined vote would be enough to swing a vote in the coming House, on the basis of the present returns, include Alvan T. Fuller, Massachusetts; Thomas D. Schall, Minnesota; W. P. Martin, Louisiana; Charles H. Randall, of California, and Meyer London, of New York.

Fuller was elected as an Independent in the Ninth Massachusetts district over Congressman Ernest W. Roberts, Republican. Fuller was a Republican originally, turned Progressive, then went back to the Republican ranks.

He was defeated for the Republican nomination in his district by Roberts, then entered the race as an Independent. He criticized Roberts in his campaign for voting for the McClellan armament bill, and charged him with supporting pork barrel legislation.

Schall With Republicans.
Congressman Schall, blind member of the House, Progressive, has voted generally with the Republicans. It is thought he would lead the team in choosing a Speaker, but would not support anyone too strongly identified with the standard element.

Assurance of the Schall, Martin, elected from the Third Louisiana district as a protectionist, will act with the Republicans in organizing the House already received.

Congressman Randall, elected to the present Congress by a combination of Democrats, Socialists, Progressives and Republicans alike.

Congressman Meyer London of New York, present Socialist, of the Federal House, has usually acted with the Democrats.

Constitution "He" Rises to Vex "She"

Some Men So Ungallant as to Question Miss Rankin's Right to Congress Seat.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Is the Constitution of the United States so eternally masculine that the personal pronoun "HE" may not be interpreted as "SHE"?

If it is—and may be it is—Miss Jeanette Rankin, Congresswoman-elect from Montana, may be prevented from accepting the prize of her victory.

"This ungallant question was brought up today by students of the Federal Constitution, who quoted the following passage:

"No person shall be a Representative who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that State in which HE shall be chosen."

"The opponent of Miss Rankin might, of course, counter that it is in that event Congress would ultimately decide the matter. The laws of Montana would be taken into consideration. As for the "HE" in the Federal Constitution, I don't believe it would be construed so as to prevent Miss Rankin from accepting the seat in Congress."

ANTI-WILSON PAPER THREATENED BY MOB

Demonstration Against Chicago Tribune Is Staged.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Wilson enthusiasts staged a demonstration against the Chicago Tribune last night. A parade with bands, torchlights, and red fire was held through the downtown streets with about 100 Democrats in line.

Finally the parade broke up and showers collected about the Tribune building, yelling, burning red fire, and hurling epithets of complicity at the strongest newspapers against Hughes in the West. Finally they began a march through the business office of the newspaper.

The situation on the first floor and their action were such that riot call was sent in, and fifty policemen under Lieutenant Enright rushed to the building.

Police drove all the paraders out of the building and off the sidewalks, after which the shouters contented themselves with marching up and down Madison and Dearborn streets until they gradually dispersed.

No damage was done, and no injuries reported other than to garments and temper.

Leads Hughes Parade, Skids Into a Sewer
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 12.—Willie Bringham, boy drummer, has little faith in the Wilson thirteen good luck combination.

Telephone Main 5553.
Mail Orders Promptly and Efficiently Filled.

The purpose of our advertising is to give you, daily, the NEWS of the store, along with accurate and authentic style information. Also to bring to your notice any market movements affecting prices. We follow but one single rule in writing this advertisement—"to write the truth and nothing but the truth about the store and its merchandise, giving you the facts in the simplest and most direct language."

Even though you find no comparative prices in our Daily Store News, we wish to impress upon you the fact that a store doing the volume of business that we do is at all times able to sell merchandise at least-in-the-city prices. When you see "supposedly bargains" elsewhere, compare them with our offerings of a similar quality before buying. In that way will you be convinced of our—"SELLING SUPREMACY."

Editorial

The Boy Scouts should receive the first credit for having popularized the phrase—"Be Prepared." And the loyal, enthusiastic Boy Scout IS prepared.

He is prepared in—First aid to the injured.

He is prepared—to be quick to help the poor, tired woman with her basket of washing.

He is prepared—to always answer those seeking information quickly and intelligently, if he knows, if not, to direct the inquirer to some one who does.

This store seeks perfect PREPAREDNESS.

To have all employees ready to answer questions quickly and politely.

To have salespeople trained to HELP customers.

To have stocks ready when they are needed.

RESIDENTS PROTEST DETENTION HOUSE

Commissioner Brownlow stated today that a protest now from the residents in the vicinity of Ninth and M streets northwest against the establishment of the House of Detention in the old Turn Verein Hall, at 223 M street would be too late.

"The Commissioners have already signed a lease for the building for one year," said Mr. Brownlow, "and repairs have been made to the building to fit it for occupancy by the House of Detention. The Commissioners could hardly do anything now."

When the house would be installed in the M street home, which is an old mansion-like structure, brought forth protests from a number of property owners along M street, who declared the value of their ground would be depreciated by the presence of such an institution.

There were rumors that court action might be taken to enjoin the District from establishing the institution there. No one could be found this morning, however, who had heard anything definite along that line.

DECLARES HIS WIFE FAINTED FROM PAIN OF RHEUMATISM

Relates How She Was Relieved From Rheumatism After Suffering Many Years.

My wife suffered from rheumatism of the joints for many years, and one time the pain was so severe that she fainted. Her shoulder and arm were stiff and very painful, and it was almost impossible to get her hand to her head. Some one had to comb her hair for her each day, and one doctor claimed her arm was locked," said Mr. C. Snyder, of Liberty street, Altown, Pa.

"She was in bed for six months, one leg being drawn up on account of the pain and stiffness in the knee and hip joint. Really she was in a pitiful condition, and had to be lifted from the bed to the chair.

"Lots of people knew of her condition and many have seen her walk with a cane which she had to use to get about with.

"She was taking treatment from physicians all the time, yet was growing steadily worse, and was very much discouraged over her condition. About this time I heard of Dreco, and having tried most everything else I'd heard of, I decided to try her on it also. After taking Dreco a while I could tell the pain was not so bad, her joints seemed not to be quite so stiff and she was able to handle herself better.

"She continued the treatment and now has thrown her cane away. The pains and stiffness have about ceased, and her general condition is better than in years, and we never miss a chance to recommend Dreco."

Dreco is a preparation of the extracts from roots, herbs, barks, and berries. It contains no mercury, potash, nor other harmful mineral. It acts on the bowels, liver and kidneys, and cleanses the impurities from the blood, giving renewed strength and vitality to the organs.
